

September 27th 2010 half-day Sound Sense event

Show us the money!

With cuts looming – where are still the likeliest places to find work and funding?

This half-day Sound Sense session brings you experts in community music sharing an overview of schemes, projects and initiatives, with the latest news on their likely continuance and where you might best find work in 2010/11.

Whether you are interested in work in the urban music, orchestral, jazz, folk or other genres, with young people or adults, our guest speakers bring a wealth of knowledge and awareness of what trends are growing and where there might be new opportunities. Presenters include Kathryn Deane (Sound Sense), Philip Flood (Sound Connections), Andrea Spain (TrinityLaban), Damian Hebron (London Arts and Health Forum), Graham Dowdall (Goldsmiths College), Catherine Pestano (CRISP), Tariq Shabbeer (Prevista) and Phil Mullen (Sound People). Come and hear presentations and quiz the Panel. Book in for free business guidance consultations in the afternoon with Prevista.

Date: Monday 27th September

Venue: Studio 1, Laban, Creekside, Deptford (Deptford BR or Deptford Bridge DLR)

Timings: 9.30 for 10am if paying on door (cash pleased), or 9.50am if pre-booked by cheque. Price includes light lunch 1-2pm.

Price: £10 or £5 for Sound Sense members, Free Bursary places to TrinityLaban students, staff and alumni.

Only 50 places available for this timely and exciting event. To pay in advance to secure your place send cheques payable to Sound Sense to 44 Beaconsfield Road, Croydon CR0 2LL. Or to reserve a free place where applicable please e-mail communitymusicservice@gmail.com.

In celebration of Sound Sense's 20th anniversary as the professional body for community music (www.soundsense.org) and with thanks to all our speakers and for support from the ECIF Springboard programme, run by TrinityLaban to support creative enterprise.

